FORTY GRAINS OF MORPHINE.

PLATOON OF POLICEMEN.

Peath of a Well-to-de Swedich Artist at the Metropolitan Metal-She Leaves a Lady's Mandkershief for Lieut, Sears, Augusta Berg. a Swedish artist, died at the Metropolitan Hotel early resterday morning from an overdose of morphine. She had lived at the hotel since September, and had a room on the Broadway side on the fourth floor. She was a widow.

On Saturday evening one of the chambermaids noticed that she was acting strangely, and asked her what alled her. Mrs. Berg repiled that she had a severe cold, and was afraid it would develop into pneumonia. She went in her room and went to bed. Afterward the maid stopped at the door and saked how she felt. Not being estimated with the answer. the maid told Mr. Hildreth, and Dr. William E. Forest, the hotel physician, was sent for.

Mrs. Herg told Dr. Forest that she needed no doctor. He noticed that she was under the inof morphine. She laughed and talked with him a few minutes, and he retired. She with him a few minutes, and he retired. She had not at that time taken enough of the drug to endanger her life. He said to her before he left: "You are a sick woman, and must take very good care of yourselt." He also told the seyvant to keep an eye on her.

On bunday evening, about 9 o'clock, one of the maids found the woman lying on her back in the bed unconscious. Dr. Forest was called again. At first he thought she was dead. Her body was cold, her face was discolored, and he could detect no respiration or pulse. He put his hand over her heart and feit a slight flutter. Tanks of oxygen were rolled into the room, and the gas was forced into her lungs without any visible effect. The doctor, with two sesistants, worked over her fifteen hours, and then the heart stopped, and she was dead. In the freplace, which had not been used, and which was covered with a absertion blows; Dr. Forest found a bottle that had contained 90 grains of morphine, it was empty, it was a bottle such as is used by wholessig druggists, and bore the label of Powers & Weightman, Philadelchia, On the bursau was an ussealed letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to be Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and a sesiod letter addressed to the Swedish Consul and Aronne Mrs. Be held in the Swedish Consul and the Swedish Consul and Swedish and half in Swedish. The English part informed the Consul har effects, and see that her disacted with the head met Mrs. Berg's yistors at the hotel had been Dr. and Mrs. We year and receipted h had not at that time taken enough of the drug to endanger her life. At the consulate it was said that Mrs. Berg was a member of one of the best families in Sweden. Herr G. Sternbeasen, the superinsendent of the Government railroads, is her brother. Another brother is a wealthy merechant. She came here for pleasure, as well as for work, it was said. She received a remittance regularly through the consulate. She had not been as successful in her painting as she had hoped to be, and she contemplated returning to Sweden. Last Thursday she called at the Hamburg line office to purchase a ticket, intending to sail on Feb. 12. She was advised to wait a while, since all recent passages had been very rough and stormy, and she concluded to follow the advice. The chall they of no trouble she was in, except that her last remittance had not arrived. It had been delayed on the way. That was of no importance, however, because she had money accounts to last her not the same and the second importance, however, because she had money enough to last her, and if she had not, she might have drawn in advance.

Dr. Forest said that Mrs. Berg had taken at least forty grains of morphine. That is enough to kill a platoon of policemen. She had been practically dead for eighteen hours before her hear stored badding.

to kiff a platoon of policemep. She had been practically dead for eighteen hours before her heart stopped beating.

Some of the bell boys told Coroner Levy that Mrs. Berg had been acting despondently, and had been seen erying. Letters were found showing that are. Berg had had a companion. Mrs. Virginia Bausman, while living at this hotel. Mrs. Bausman was there from Dee. 20 of last year to the 9th of January. There are evidences that the two led a hanpy life, going to theatres and spending money quite freely in other ways. Mrs. Bausman is a daughter of Mrs. Josephine Knox. and her husband resides at Gordouville, Vs. Mrs. Bausman has not of late resided in Virginia, but her husband has furnished her with money with which to defray all hottle expenses. One of the letters found was from him, and written to Mrs. knox. In this he asks for laformation concening his wife, and says that he will pay her hotel falls, but no har hills or amounts energed for breaklasts served in her bedroom. If she hotel tills, but no bar bills or amounts enarged for breakfasts served in her bedroom. If she was well enough to go to theatre parties, he said, she could get down to breakfast. This letter had been forwarded by Mrs. Knox to Mrs. Berg. The suicide had also received a letter direct from the husband in which he asks for advice about sending his wife somewhere for her health.

The swedish Consul has taken charge of Mrs. Berg shody, and it will be embaimed. Mrs. Berg was about 40 years old, and was a woman of aplendid physique. It is said that she has enhibited a picture at the National Academy of Design.

ACHING TO BE INVESTIGATED. The New Sugar Combine Opens Its Arms for Senator Erwin,

Wall street people said yesterday that Sen ator Erwin's resolution for the investigation of the Sugar Trust looked very much like persecution, and so did some of the people directly interested in the trust. But John E. Parsons for the American Sugar Refining Company, the new organization formed under the laws of

New Jersey, said he would welcome the investigators. We have nothing to conceal," he said, "and will readily show our books. We will not put one block in the way of Senator Erwin's investigators. Indeed, it was not necessary that any such resolution should have been passed. as a mere request for all matters pertaining to the affairs of the company would have been honored. In fact, I would have gone to Albany if they wan ed to ask me any questions. if they wan ed to ask me any questions. This investigation is to learn just how the Cameron suit was settled. It wasn't settled. We bent the suit in the courts and that's all there was to that. We did not pay a single cent to settlet that suit. We have never paid a single cent to compromise adverse paid a single cent to compromise adverse paid a single cent to compromise adverse reaims or litigation, and we never will. Although the commany is now under the protection of the lines of New Jersey we will not offer the slightest objection to the most right investigation. The Duncan Cameron suit was for the supoint ment of receivers to wind up the trust as constituted under the laws of New Jorsey of the supoint ment of receivers to wind up the trust as constituted under the laws of New Jorse, and also for the purpose of detecting the reorganization perfected when the company was taken to New Jersey. This suit was thrown out of court.

ALBANY, Feb. 10.—The Senate General Laws Committee will oren the Sugar Trust investigation as the Hotel Metropole in New York on Friday and Saturday.

President Benjamin S. Henning of the East ver Railway Company applied to the Board of Aldermen yesterday for permission to build arailroad to run through a tunnel under the East River, and connect with the Manhattan denning's system has already been described. His present scheme is to run trains by gravity through the tunnel, into which they will plunge from an elevated track. The momentum of the descent is to be sufficient to carry trains from the beginning of the descent to brooklyn in fifty-six seconds. In Brooklyn the trains will be caught by a cable and dragged up to a sisting on Nouth sixth street. O. H. P. Conneil of his Broadway is the engineer in charge. A contract for building the tunnel has been estered into with the lieuning dravity Tunnel Company. Work is to be begun within sixty days after the necessary consent has been obtained. The application was referred to the liadreal Committee.

POLICE ON THE WATER PRONT.

Sweeping Changes Ordered-Acting Segent Goodell Severely Punished, Acting Superintendent Byrnes suggested to the Police Board that they abolish the night patrol of the Steamboat Squad, increase the numbers of the squad, and devote its men entirely to an improved day service for the more efficient protection of mercantile and shipping interests, for the protection of the public at the arrival and departure of steamshins, and for such other service as is required. As night the precincts abutting on the river front must provide the patrol. He also recommended that one pollerman by day and another by night be assigned to each ferry from the precinct covering that ferry. The continual presence of an officer, he thinks, would be an cases result in the interception of criminals. Policemen detailed to street crossings, he recommended, should belong to the precincts which the crossings are, except in the case of the Broadway squad.

The Board adopted all the recommendations. The changes so into effect on Feb. 20.

The draft of a bill authorising the Police tiquated poll books was approved. The Board will ask the Legislature to assign $850,000 will ask the Legislature to assign $350,000 annually of the Excise moneys to the Police Pension fund.

The Commissioners had some talk over a proposed bill exempting members of the force who took part in the Graft riots in 1863 from retirement at the age of 60. The Inspector, four Captains, twenty-three Rergeants, and thirty-one roundsmen and patrolmen would benefit by the measure. The Commissioners are opposed to it. They want young men on the force. Inspector Steers, Captains Gunner, Copeland, Hocker, and Slabert would come under the provisions of the bill. Capt. Gunner has signified his intention to retire on April 1. President MacLean and Commissioner Voorhis wanted to dismiss Acting Nergeant Enoch A. Goodell of the Grand Central Depot, who was found salesp in the station house. Commissioners Martin and McCleav voted against it. Goodell was fined thirty days' pay and remanded to patrol duty. There is still a charge of failing to make proper entry on the bletter pending against Goodell. He will be kept on duty long enough to pay his fine and will then be retired.

On the recommendation of Inspector Byrnes the permits for mask balls at the Lenox Ly-eeum will horeafter cost $100.

TOWNSEND'S WILL CONTESTED.

Made the Morning of the Day He Died at the Foot of the Palleades,

On the day before his body was found at the base of the Palisades, near Englewood, on Nov. 28, last year, John Townsend, Jr., lawyer, signed his will. Mr. Townsend lived at In-wood in the house of his brother-in-law. Mr. Reuben W. Howes, the executor of the will which was offered for probate before Surregate

Objections were filed yesterday on behalf of Frances Bedlow Townsend, the widow of a deceased brother, who declares that the will was signed after the witnesses had affixed their signatures, and that it was not legally execut-ed. The will bequeathed $10,000 to Mr. Townsand's sister. Mrs. Caroline Eliza Wilson, who end's sister. Mrs. Caroline Eliza Wilson, who lives in the Catakilla, and all of his paintings, hooks, &c. to his nisces, the residue to be distributed according to the laws of the State.

On the afternoon after the will was executed Mr. Townsend crossed the Hudson on a Fort Lee ferryboat, and took a stroll up to the top of the picturesone bluffs. It is consciured that he fell or jumped from the rocks after shooting himself in the head, although nobely saw him do so. A boy who happened to be looking up at the Paleades saw Townsend's body rushing through the air, but did not see it issue the edge of the precipice. Dr. J. W. Terry and other sesidents of Englewood believed that Rr. Townsend had been murdered, but a Coroner's jury declared it their opinion that he had committed suicide.

Juror McConnell Falls in a Fit and the Party

Breaks Up Without a Verdiet. The dark, stuffy, and badly ventilated jury rooms of the Supreme Court have been the cause of much complaint of late. Yesterlay William McConnell. a liquor dealer of Twontieth street and Eighth avenue, was a juror on the trial of an accident suit by Henry Muller against the Steinway and Hunter's Point Railroad Company before Judge Barrett. At the close of the case he and the other jurors were taken to the dinky little apartment on the Chambers street side of the building. The Chambers steet side of the building. The window was kept closed on account of the wintry atmosphere and the door was locked upon them. Some of the jurors smoked.

A sealed verdict was ordered and the jury was put in charge of Court Officers J. M. O. G. McGuire and plain. John Bambach. A few minutes after 6 o'clock there was a loud rap on the door and a groan. The officers hastily opened the door and saw Juror McConnell joing on the ficor bleeding profugely from a wound over his eye. Jantos Feener, and Watchman O'flara went for a doctor. Little Johnny Hingserty got ahead of them and brought Dr. G. D. Farwell of City Hall place. The doctor said McConnell had had an epilebite fit, partly induced by the closeness of the room. He took the juror to his offices me said subsequently sent him home with an officer.

The jury had not agreed when McConnell fell and the officers discharged them until to-day. Officer McGuiro conveyed the news to Judge liarrett's home.

HASTINGS DENIES A DEFICIT.

The Ex-Adjutant-General of Pennsylvania Declares That His Accounts are Correct. HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 10,-Regarding the report that there is a deficiency of $90,000 in the Adjutant-General's Department from the last Administration, Adjt.-Gen. McClelland said to-ight: "This office is in no manner responsinothing that in any way reflects upon Gen.

Gen. D. A. Hastings, who was Adultant-General under Gov. Beaver, said in an interview to-day: "There is no shortage. On the con-trary. I left a balance to my successor. When I went into office there was a deficit on out-standing unpaid bills amounting to about standing unpaid bills amounting to about $36,000. left over by the late Adjt.-Gen. Gutheri. These bills were entirely honest and correct. I paid these bills out of my year's appropriation. During my four years' term of office two divisional encampments were held. In addition to these encampments, the division was assembled four other times, first at the inauguration of President Harrison, next during the constitutional centsunial celebration in Philadelphia, and last at the centennial celebration of Washington's inauguration in New York. Each of the parades entaited large additional cost, but added greatly to the piraday high reputation of the National Guard. I turned over to my friend Gen. McCleiland about $13,000 worth of kersey and financel and $3,500 in cash. Against these there are some unpaid accounts amounting to between $10,000 and $11,000. The accounts in my office were as carefully kept as those of any banking institution in the State."

Anybody in Nyack for 885,

Judge Ingraham is trying in the Supreme Court a suit by Henry E. Bendel against S. Elwood May to recover $50,000 damages for false arrest and imprisonment. The plaintiff is a member of the Consolidated Exchange. and was arrested on Feb. 25, 1888, upon an order obtained by May, who says that he mailed Bendel a check for goods, and never mailed Bendel a check for goods, and never got the goods in his complaint that he was arrested in this city on a charge of grand larceny and "conveyed with great and unnecessary violence" to the village of Nyack. He spent about $500 for legal and other expenses, and was finally discharged. Questioned as to the details of his expenditures he said he was obliged to employ lawyers of influence at Nyack, and added that, as matter of fact, anybody in Nyack could be bought for $25. Case utill on.

Capt. Lee Tries the General Term.

Capt John P. Leo made another effort yes-terday to have the action of Gov. Hill and Adjt.-Gen. Porter in disbanding his company of the Twenty-recond regiment reviewed by of the Twenty-second regiment reviewed by the Supreme Court. Major Asa Bird Gardiner and W. C. Reddy made an application for a writ of certiforari to Judge Andrews, who dended it, but gave them permission to apply to the General Term. They did so yesterday, and Major Gardiner presented the same arguments that he had advanced before Judge Andrews. Attorney-deneral Tabor opposed the application, and argued that the action of the Governor in this case was not reviewable. Only two such applications had been made in this liste in the last one hundred fears, he said, and both had been denied. Decision was reserved.

Brooklyn, attempted suicide yesterday after-noon at the Summit Hotel by shooting himself in the head with a 32-calibre revolver. Riebesschi is a young man, the son of a Brooklyn liquor dealer. He has been in the habit of visiting the Summit House occasionally for over a year. He was generally on a spree when he came. He came there last Saturday night, and engaged room 30 on the third floor. He and engaged room 30 on the third floor. He was then under the influence of liquor. On Monday morning he went away, but came back yesterday morning. He went to his room, and gave orders to be called at 5 o'clock. He was still under the influence of liquor.

Shortly after going to his room Riebeschl ordered a drink, which was sent to him. About 4 o'clock a pistol shot was heard in his room. The door was broken in and he was found lying on the bed with a bullet wound in the centre of his forehead. He was taken to thambers Street Hospital, where it was found that the wound was not dangerous. The bullet did not penetrate the skull, but glanced around the left side of the forehead. The skin around the bullet hole was blackened by the powder.

Hiebeschl said last night that he did not remember shooting himself. He said he supposed he was drunk and thought he had a sorrow of some kind or else believed he had had enough of life. He wasn't sure.

ROESER CONVICTED OF ASSAULT.

Judge Brady Expresses Surprise at the The trial of Jacob Rosser was finished yester day, before Judge Brady, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. Roeser is a Ninth avenue baker, and he was charged with manelaughter in having killed William Ronan in June last. Rosser said he thought lionen had a kuife in his hand. said he thought Honan had a kuife in his hand, and he atruck him on the head with a stick in solf-defence. The jury returned a verdict of guilty of assant in the third degree.

Judge Brady imposed a une of $250, and sentenced him to one year in Bisate prison. In sentencing the man the Judge said that he was not in the habit of criticising a jury, but he felt compelled to say that the verdict was a surprise to him. "Violence," he said, "cannot be tolerated in this city, and a person who kills another should be punished. From the testimony given I believe licoser killed the wrong man. I believe Ronan was innocent, and took no part in the row."

William A. Strand was placed on trial before Judge Brady in the Oyer and Terminer yesterday under an indictment for murder. Strand came to this city from the South last summer, and on Aug. 4, while on a suree, entered the Palace Hotel barroom, where he raised a disturbance. Mitchell Jardine, a colored porter, ejected him, and he stabbed the torter, Jardine died three days later. When the court adjourned six jurors had teen secured.

GOT A BRIDE BY SWINDLING.

Young Man Pretends to be the Hon of BOSTON, Peb. 10 .- Harry M. Fleming is smooth-tongued young man who has been passing himself off as the son of President Bliss of the Boston and Albany Railroad. On the strength of that imposition he married a young woman who lives in Chelsea, but he is now in jail. Her parents are well to do, and they, as well as the young woman, were hoodwinked by the impostor.

After Fleming had been courting two or three months he proposed marriage, and was accepted. In the mean time he had told wonderiul tales of what his rich father would do when his son had wedded and settled down. Frequently Fleming exhibited a big roll of bills, and announced that the "old gent" had sent the money to him to last a month. These ding day was set, and the marriage took place. A good many persons were surprised ding day was set, and the marriage took place. A good many persons were surprised not to see President Bliss at the festivities. Fleming, however, got over this by saying that the "old cent" was sick and could not come.

Then Fleming began to board with the young woman's parents. His borrowing propensity grew, and time after time it was necessary to suggest to him that he had not settled the last account. The young couple boarded with the bride's parents on Chestnut street. This was very well for a time but after a couple of weeks, when Fleming had borrowed $30 or $40 and President Blies had not sent any money to help his son along, suspicion was aroused. Nothing was done, however, for about a month. Then the father of the bride made in uniries. He found that he and his family had been outrageously hood winked; that Fleming was not the con of the Eresident of the Boston and Alieny, that he had been in jail, and that his only idea in marrying the daughter was to get free board and money as long as he could, trusting that, rather than endure disgrace, the girl's parents would continue to susport him.

Fleming was very much mistaken. The angry father reached home about 7 o'clock on the day he had learned his son-in-law's history. The father didn't say anything to his family. He called Fleming to the door, passed him his hat and cont, and said with ore or two alrong remarks. "If you ever come near this house again I'll put a bullet through you."

The son-in-law dianppeared in a hurry. Today he was arrested on the charge of emisezzlement, and was held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

MICHAEL BION GOES FREE.

In Jail for Most of the Last 15 Years and Yet no Real Proof of Guilt, WINSTED, Conn., Feb. 10.-Michael Bion is no longer an inmate of the Litchfield county jail. He has passed the greater part of the last fifteen years in prison, but it is not settled that he ever committed a crime. Judge Fenn, in the Superiour Court this afternoon, ordered that Bion be released and given over to the care of the French Consul, who had come here from New York to look after Bion's interests. be under police surveillance all the time be. there. Each day he will have to report to the police, and should be disregard this order he will be locked up. Fifteen years ago Bion was arrested for some petty offence in New Cansan. He was tried and sentenced to jail by Lyman Dunning, a Justice of the Peace. Bion served his term, and, it is alleged, as soon as he Dunning, a Justice of the Peace. Bion served his term, and, it is alleged, as soon as he was liberated, made threats against Dunning for sending him to jail. A few months later an attempt was made to blow Dunnings house up in the night. By some mistake the explosion badly damaged the Concregational church adjoining Dunning's house. Bion was suspected of the orime, and on his trial the fact that he had purchased a quantity of powder the day of the explosion weighed heavily against him. He was convicted; and sent to State prison for fourteen years. He was released from prison after he had served about eight and one-half years, on condition that he would return to France and never some back. For two years nothing was heard of him, and Lyman Dunning ones more breathed easier. One day, however, Dunning's son recognized Bion, working just over the New York State line. On inquiry Justice Dunning learned that Bion had been employed in a lumber camp for usearly a year. He had not crossed the State line all the time he had been working in New York but still Dunning feared the vengeance of the Frenchman, and resolved to shut him up in jail. By a trick Bion was hrought over into Connecticut to get his pay. He was immediately arrested and taken before a Justice. Bion was charged with laving threatened the life of Dunning and was held in bonds of $5,000 to keep the peace. This practically meant that Bion must peace his life in prison as there was not the slightest hope of his being able to get the bonds.

BALEM, N. J., Feb. 9.—Charles B. Simpkins of Salem county, New Jersey, saw a strange sight at Lower Alloway's Creek Saturday morning Hanging in the water with their heads fastened in the clear ice covering a pond on his farm he in the clear ice covering a pond on his farm he found thousands of frogs, from the patriarchai "buily" down to the smallest apring frog. There were enough there to fill a forty-bushei wagon body. Many of them were minus legs, which had been bitten off by Junista terrapin. Mr. Simpkins dug out a great number of them and sent them to Philadelphia markets. Buch an aggregation of frogs is very unusual. The pond being connected with the creek, it is supposed that the frogs came up into the still water.

Rhott Held for the Grand Jury to $7,000. William B. Rhett was held on two additional charges at the Tombs Police Court resterday afternoon, and he is now under $7.000 ball to appear before the Grand Jury. On Monday Justice Taintor held him in $1.000 bail on the charge of abducting Ratie Flynn from Jersey City to New York on the night of Jan. 20, and yesterday he denied the motion for the dismissal of the charge of abducting Mary Williams, and examination was waived on the charge of abasult upon Polly Morris. The ball in each abduction case was fixed at $1.000 and in the assault case at $2.000. This was simply a renewal of the ball fixed at the time of lihett's arrest.

Alderman Brown offered a resolution in the Board of Aldermen yesterday providing for the amendment of section 412 of article 41 of chapamendment of section al 2 of article 41 of chap-ter 8 of the revised ordinances of 1880. The resolution was offered at the request of Public Works Commissioner Gilroy. The amendment well make it unlawful for any person to erret a pole or post in front of any residence for carry-ing electric wires. All poles are to be mainted brown, except the fire poles, wich will con-tinue to be painted red. The poles shall bear the name of the company owning them. The resolution was referred to the Law Committee.
